

CRUISING THE TRUTHS.
Topika State Journal—Sugar is still high-priced. People with a sweet tooth should seek it in the sugar trust, full length.

BADLY WANTED.
Washington Post—For a person who is expected to plunge into the Ohio campaign, ex-Governor Campbell is preserving a remarkable silence.

THE AMERICAN WAY.
Philadelphia Call—In colonizing, as in everything else, we lead the world. Witness the grand grab for land which was made in the Cherokee Strip.

A TAME AFFAIR.
Cleveland Plain Dealer—The Keeley day at Chicago was rather mild. How could they expect a fellow to celebrate after depriving him of his jag?

SAME OLD THING.
New York Press—The Democratic party upholds Free-trade in behalf of working people just as it upheld slavery in the name of American liberty.

PATHOTIC TRAIN ROBBERIES.
Kansas City Star—The American train robber seems to be alive to the obligations which the Columbian year imposes upon all of our National industries.

ONE CONSOLATION.
Minneapolis Journal—"Dry rot" shrieks Governor White of Colorado, "has attacked the Republic." Well, thank Heaven, the potato crop is safe.

DOMESTIC RECIPROCITY.
Dallas News—When a man goes home with clothes on his back and begins to preach economy to his wife it becomes her duty to slap him in the mouth with her dishrag.

MULIATTIAN IS BALKED.
Memphis Public Ledger—Joe Mullanian is going about Chicago with his legs popping out and his tongue hanging down. The Fair is entirely too big a thing for Joe to lie about.

BLAMING NATURE.
Galveston News—Dame Nature seems to have made one mistake. It would have been so much more slightly if she had arranged for the Senatorial affairs of the silver nabobs to carry their galls on their shoulders like sacks of flour.

DEMOCRATIC NEUTRITY.
Commercial Gazette—Secretary Carlisle is one of those stalwart Democrats who believe that public office is a good thing for the public officials. He has secured the appointment of his brother as Postmaster at Covington, while his son occupies a fat place in the Treasury Department at the elbow of pa.

QUERY FOR TARIFF REFORMERS.
New York Press—Are any of the tariff reformers who claimed that the tariff did not help wages prepared to go into business at the old rate of wages now that employers are generally reducing? The chance is first rate to prove that the tariff reform apostles believe what they have been preaching.

THE SURE ROAD TO METEORISM.
Washington Post—The way to force Europe to agree with us upon international bimetallism is for the United States to stop buying silver and buy gold. The repeal of the Sherman Law is only the first step. If we follow it up by getting out share of the gold of the world, we will compel England to come to our terms.

ENEMIES OF PEOPLE AND PRESIDENT.
Philadelphia Press—The Democrats who are pushing the repeal of the Federal Elections Law in the House are not friends of the people. They have begun the perjury of this and other partisan legislation should not deter Republicans from pressing Silver Purchase reform earnestly and persistently, while opposing the partisan measures by every means at their command.

IF THE FIRM IS TINKERED.
New York Press—"There isn't the slightest doubt of Governor McKinley's election," said Judge Stevenson of Cleveland. "Another thing is certain—If the Democratic Congress attempts to change the tariff before the Ohio election Governor McKinley will receive from 90,000 to 100,000 majority. Our manufacturers and people have had an object lesson this summer that they will not soon forget. If I was in Congress I would urge the Democrats to carry out their platform. They have begun the work of destruction of American industries, and they might as well go on and complete it, so that the country can see the difference between a Democratic and a Republican Administration."

ONE SURVIVOR.

The Alexandre Pelton, of the Haytian Navy, Founders.

One of the Sailors of the Ninety-three on Board Lives

To Narrate the Terrible Story—A Diplomatic Party Consisting of Gen. Moliner, M. de Jean, and Mr. Cohen, and No. 2, known.

New York, Sept. 23.—The Alexandre Pelton, one of the new gunboats of the Haytian navy, founded on September 4, near Cape Tiburon, and only one of her crew of ninety men survived to tell the story. The news of the loss of the vessel was brought here Friday by passengers on the Dutch steamer Prinz Willem I, which arrived from Port au Prince. The Alexandre Pelton was the last of the gunboats constructed for the Haytian navy. She was built in Havre for the government of Hayti only a few months ago, and left Port au Prince September 4, bound for the city of San Domingo. She had on board as passengers Gen. Moliner, special Dominican plenipotentiary to Hayti; M. de Jean, consul to San Domingo, and Mr. Cohen, formerly Haytian Minister to Mexico. The party were going to San Domingo to make the final terms of an agreement between Hayti and San Domingo. The Alexandre Pelton carried ninety sailors, marines and officers, besides the diplomatic party. She foundered on September 6 at 4 o'clock in the morning, near Cape Tiburon. Why it was that she sank nobody knows.

Her sole survivor, a colored sailor, was picked up a few miles from Porto Piminto on September 8. He was upon a heavy plank and was sitting with a pair of oars. He was an ignorant man, and could not give an intelligent account of how the accident took place. The vessel, which was in the early morning, the gunboat began to go down bow first. Nearly all those on board sank with the vessel. A few were rescued and kept until they were too exhausted to struggle longer. The survivor found the plank and two oars near the vessel. He floated about for a day and a half, when he was picked up by a small sailing vessel. The news of the loss of the steamer came to San Domingo the day after the vessel was picked up. Many of the gunboats officers and crew had families in the town. The citizens of Port au Prince are in hope. The loss of the crew may have escaped. There are no reefs and shoals in the neighborhood where the vessel foundered, according to official charts. It was out of the usual path of navigation.

Gen. Moliner was a gallant soldier in honor in Port au Prince. Shortly before his departure on the ill-fated gunboat a dinner was given in his honor by U. S. Minister Durham. "On that occasion," said Mr. Durham in a reporter Friday, when he met him at the Prinz Willem I, "the general spoke in an exceedingly pathetic manner. He had been disappointed on account of his many distinguished services to his country. 'It is true,' he said, 'that I have fought and suffered much for my native land, yet I have never lived for my family and for those dependent on me. In all these years my constant thought has been of them and what would befall them should I be taken from them.'"

The diplomatic party were cordially treated while in Port au Prince, and many people were told them for the day that the Alexandre Pelton steamed out of the harbor. The Alexandre Pelton was one of the best of the gunboats of the Haytian navy, and cost $250,000.

CANAL RIGHTS.
Suits to Open the T. and O. Road Filled in the Supreme Court.

COLUMBIA, O., Sept. 23.—Attorney General Richards Friday morning sought suit in the supreme court to oust the Toledo, Wabash and Ohio Railway Co. from the canal banks in Coshocton county. The canal commission also Friday asked the attention of the attorney-general to the joint resolution of the legislature, directing that the attorney-general shall sue the Valley railroad to compel it to pay an annual rental equal to 6 per cent, on $10,000 worth of property (canal) belonging to the state, and occupied by it in Summit county. The attorney-general was also requested to open a correspondence with General Superintendent Riebach, of the C. & D., regarding the settlement of that road with the state for canal land occupied by it in Butler county, and between Middletown and Hamilton.

Wreck on the Southern.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 23.—At 1 o'clock Friday morning a passenger train north of Birmingham, limited express train No. 1, Queen and Crescent route, was wrecked by unknown persons reversing a rail from the track. The engine, baggage car and mail cars were demolished, and Engineer Frawley, Proman White, Post Office Clerk, William Bailey and Porter Howell were hurt, but none fatally. Two hundred passengers were aboard, but none were injured, as the cars of the wrecked train did not turn over. There was no clew to the wreckers and blood hounds have been put on the trail.

Verdict in the Manteno Wreck.
KANSAS, Ill., Sept. 23.—The coroner's verdict, rendered Friday evening, after due deliberation over the causes of the Manteno disaster, is as follows: "We find that James Jackson and others came to their death at Manteno, September 13, 1893, while riding as passengers on the Central Illinois tracks by being run into by a wrecked section train, said section being in charge of Conductor Charles M. Allen and Engineer Thomas A. Jones, and further recommended that said Thomas A. Jones and Orville Dunham, flagman of first section of said train, be held to answer for such unlawful killing."

TERRIBLE EXPLOSION!
Too High Pressure.

In these days when competition is every thing, when the business man is compelled to bend his intellect and every energy to the success of his business; when the cook, bookkeeper, professional man and laborer, to drive themselves at a terrific rate, there can be but one result—an explosion, which, if not resulting in immediate death, leaves them with shattered brains and bodies.
They are running at too high pressure.
The strain is too great. Something must be done to give way. This is equally true of women. Though their sphere is more limited, they have their daily burdens, fear, worry, and the result is the same as with their stronger brethren. The strain is increasing and growing more every day. The rapidity of its increase is awful to contemplate. Our homes, hospitals, and business places are full of nervous and are being crowded with terror. There is but one solution of the matter. Recognize the importance of the situation at once, and take the necessary measures to overcome it. If you have billing memory, hot head, disordered nervous or sick headache, dilatation, irritability, melancholy, sleeplessness, fainting, nervous dyspepsia, epip-sies, etc., know that any one of them is but a symptom of the calamity that may befall you, and even though you have used so-called remedies and treated with reputable physicians with little or no benefit, give Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve a trial. It is the only remedy that may be depended upon for nervous disorders.

"Two years ago I used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve with marked benefit, and later induced my son, who had been sick with catarrh of the bladder five years in the hands of our best physicians, to try it together with Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve. It is a perfect cure. I am now strong and healthy. The mill will be run as long as the company can sell their iron."

Being Killed by a Horse.
HARRIS, O., Sept. 23.—Newton Hargitt, of Bright, Ind., was killed instantly by being caught in the belting of a sawmill. No one being in the mill at the time of the accident, the cause was ascertained just how he met his death. He was a prominent member of the Knights of Pythias lodge at Lawrenceburg.

Being Locked Jaw.
ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 23.—Alexander Ningru, the Trimble township farmer who was attacked and frightfully gored by a vicious bull last Saturday, died Friday afternoon of locked jaw.

BECAME A SQUAW.

A Pretty White Girl's Fresh-Heave Leaves a Lumbering House for a Camp.

BRIDGES, N. J., Sept. 23.—In early spring a band of Canadian Indians came to this village to establish a basket making industry. There were forty or more of them and they came from near the city of Montreal. Near the store they opened on a street was the cottage of S. L. Gitten, a renegade clerk. With him dwelt a stepsister, pretty Mamie Gitten, she is tall and well-formed. From her Polish mother she inherits a dark eyes and beauty that gives her an Indian squaw's appearance. When the Indians arrived here they attracted no little attention from the people. Mamie seemed to be infatuated with the process of making baskets, but nothing was thought of it she made friends with some of the young squaws and braves and with them constantly in the evenings after she had finished her work in the office.
Mamie frequently spoke of the desire to learn to make baskets and live in the Indian life.

Now she is missing, and she is believed to be with her dusky friends.
The Indians left for Canada on Monday last week. Mamie disappeared that same day and no trace of her movements can be found by her relatives.
Before leaving her home Mamie packed up all of her clothing and her little trunk, and succeeded in getting them out of the house without being detected by her relatives. No word has been received from the missing girl since she disappeared. It is not board the train with the Indians, but her relatives are positive in their belief that she has gone to Canada with them.

The leader of the tribe was a tall, handsome young fellow, who was known as Chief Masta. The missing girl is well educated and bright. Her relatives have not taken and will not take any step to bring her back from

BUNCOING BY WHOLESALE.

A Boston Church Member Accused of Swindling Thanks out of $175,000.

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—Thomas Richardson, formerly of the firm of Richardson & Dennis, the well-known leather dealers, of Commonwealth avenue, and for years a prominent church-member, is wanted by the police.
His servants say his wife is in Newport, but they positively refuse to tell where Mr. Richardson is. This is because there is an indictment warrant out for his arrest. He is charged with securing by means of false pretenses from one firm after the other the sum of $175,000, and securing wrongfully the amount of $175,000, according to well-known banking people, do not say whether they cover his misrepresentations, and sensations are expected. Edward M.
Dennis, one of the partners of the late firm, said Friday evening that he had not heard from Mr. Richardson since June 13, when he was at York harbor. He had never found anything wrong about his partner's business transactions, but the last ten years had been very unfortunate for Richardson. He was the financial manager, and he (Mr. Dennis) was assured by eight or nine bank presidents that there was no charge against him personally. Some of these bank presidents when asked about the matter Friday expressed themselves in very vague terms concerning the missing man.

THE STEAMER RHEA

Sinks in a Collision With Another Boat Near New York.

PADUCAH, Ky., Sept. 23.—Reports received here Friday night bring the news of a disastrous steamboat collision on the Ohio river. The steamer T. T. Rhea, of Evansville, ran into the Grace Morris and sank in ten feet of water. The reports indicate that the crew of the wrecked steamer escaped and that no lives were lost.

The details of the accident are extremely meager, there being no communication by wire to the west of the collision. The T. T. Rhea was a passenger and freight packet, and is owned by Evansville. The loss will be in the neighborhood of $25,000.

Fatally Killed by a Horse.
LEMA, O., Sept. 23.—Sanford Lichty, who resides with his parents in the southern portion of the city, was probably fatally injured by the wheel of a horse. He is owner of a fine team of gray horses and while driving them to water one of them kicked him in the side of the head, fracturing his skull and exposing his brain. One of his eyes was torn out. He lies in a precarious condition, and it is the opinion of his physician that he can not recover.

Fatal Explosion.
BELLPORT, Pa., Sept. 23.—John Mullen, colored, living in the flat woods, this county, stole a horse and attempted to drive it to the mill of Harper, a comely white girl. They were pursued by officers and overtaken near Rushsylvania, where Mullen made a dash for the mill. The horse was overpowered after being shot and dangerously wounded in the hip. He is in jail here.

Killed by a Belting.
HARRIS, O., Sept. 23.—Newton Hargitt, of Bright, Ind., was killed instantly by being caught in the belting
of the Knights of Pythias lodge at Lawrenceburg.

Being Locked Jaw.
ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 23.—Alexander
Ningru, the Trimble township farmer
who was attacked and frightfully gored
by a vicious bull last Saturday, died Friday afternoon of locked jaw.
